

A C K N O W L E D G E M E N T

I heartily express my sense of gratitudes to Dr. D.H. HINDO~~DA~~A, Head Department of Economics Chhatrapati Shahu Central Institute of Business Education and Research, Kolhapur for valuable guidance and advice in each and every stage of this dissertation for the Degree of M.Phil in Economics. I hereby take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to all those who have extended their whole hearted co-operation.

I am grateful to Prof. A.D. Shinde, Director, Dr. P.S. Rao, Principal, SIBER, who have made it possible for me to make the best use of the Library and other facilities throughout my stay at SIBER, Kolhapur.

The dissertation work demands a fairly high degree of concentration and continuous work. This could not have been made possible without the co-operation and willing help from the Principal, The Department of Economics, G.I. Bagewadi College, Nipani. To them I owe my gratitude.

A large number of friends and colleagues have been very helpful in throwing light on certain aspects of the problem under study. To these, one and all, without mentioning names, I express my sincere thanks.

I am very thankful to the Manager and Staff of the Shri Ram Co-operative Urban Bank Ltd., and The Nipani Urban Co-operative Credit Bank Ltd., who provided me every materials to complete the research work and without whose co-operation this research work would not have seen the light of day.

I will be failing in my duty, if I did not mention the Office and the Library Staff at G.I. Bagewadi Arts, Science and Commerce College, Nipani and at SIBER, who have always lightened my burden by providing very friendly services whenever requested to do so.

This dissertation probably would not have been completed if the love, care and blessings and encouragement of my beloved Parents was not forthcoming. To them and to all my family members, and especially to my wife, Malati, I remain eternally in debt.

I must thank, most sincerely, Shri. Gajendra B. Sadalge, for typing out the dissertation so efficiently and with thorough care.
