

A C K N O W L E D G E M E N T

With a high sense of duty, I wish to express my sincere thanks to my research guide Prof. Dr. V. B. Ghuge, Head, Department of Economics and Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences, Shivaji University for his valuable guidance at every stage in the preparation of this work.

I feel obliged to my principal Dr. J. K. Godha, Tuljaram Chaturchand College, Baramati, without whose encouragement this dissertation would not have materialised.

My thanks are also due to Dr. J. F. Patil, Reader in Economics, Shivaji University, Kolhapur, who helped and encouraged me in the writing and tabulation of the dissertation.

In all this work, I received enormous help from Professor K. S. Iyer, Department of English, Tuljaram Chaturchand College, Baramati. He read and checked the draft, carefully, and made very important suggestions for improvement for which, I feel so grateful.

I am extremely grateful to the Programme Evaluation Organisation (P.E.O.), Delhi which provided me 'An Evaluation Report' on EGS. I am thankful to Deputy Engineer (EGS) Z.P. Satara, Deputy Collector, Shri. Barge, Shri. Shinde, Tahasildar Khatav, Cartographer Shri. Baraskar for their kind assistance.

I thank Prof. S. N. Mane, D. G. College Satara, Prin. S. D. Puranik, Pune, and my colleagues, Rajas Parchure, Prof. Dr. V. V. Acharya, Prof. S. G. Bondre, Head of Department of Economics, Tuljaram Chaturchand College, Baramati for their co-operation.

I am very much thankful to cultivators, labourer-households, gramsevaks and social workers of Khatav tahsil who provided me the necessary information and helped me in collecting information.

My special thanks are also due to Shri. V. N. Beldar for his accurate and expeditious typing without which this piece of work would not have been completed in time.

KOLHAPUR

August, 1985.

RESEARCHER

(R. K. KHADE)