

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I have no words to describe the learned guidance given to me by my guide Dr.R.M.Tungare, Reader in Economics, Chhatrapati Shahu Central Institute of Business Education and Research, Kolhapur, even at the expense of great inconvenience caused by my intrusions upon his valuable time.

I must also acknowledge with regards and gratitude, the help Shri.A.D.Shinde, Director of this Institute, was kind to offer by giving me admission to the Course in his Institute and that of Principal Dr.P.Subba Rao of the Institute.

Dr.J.F.Patil, Reader in Economics, Department of Economics, Shivaji University, Kolhapur, showered his loving blessings on me by way of critically discussing with me the form and contents of this Dissertation. I am really grateful to him.

I must also express my sincere thanks to Principal Shashikant Yarnalkar, the Administrator and the Advisory Committee of Barrister Balasaheb Khardekar College, Vengurla, for giving me the opportunity to undergo this Course and to sanction me the study-leave.

I have drawn much on the services rendered by the Libraries of B.K.College, Vengurla; Shahu Institute and Shivaji University, Kolhapur. To all of them, I owe a debt of gratitude.

It will be a serious lapse on my part if I do not express my sincere thanks to Prof.S.S.Salgaonkar, who encouraged me and helped me by making valuable suggestions which were of great use to me.

I may fail in my duty if I do not mention with thanks the wholehearted co-operation accorded to me by the staff of the Panchayat Samiti Office, Vengurla; Project Director and his staff of District Rural Development Agency, Kudal and other Government offices in Sindhudurga district.

Special mention must be made of Shri.Sunil Natu, student of third-year B.A. class at B.K.College, Vengurla, who took every trouble in collecting information for me while on survey.

I am thankful to Professors Kale, V.M.Ingavale, Sonatakke and Kakade, who helped me while undertaking this study.

I am also thankful to my brother Shri.S.D.alias Bal Satham, who is a constant source of inspiration and encouragement to me.

I express my gratitude to all the staff members of my College.

KOLHAPUR

S.D.SATHAM
M.A.