

APPENDICES

APPENDIX A

TEST BASED ON PREVIOUS KNOWLEDGE

Std. VIII.

Time : 1 hour.

Date : 10.11.99

Marks : 20

SUB : Science.

Q.1. Answer the following questions in a single sentence each. (10)

1. Can we see Micro-organisms with our naked eyes ?
2. Name the unit used to measure Micro-organism.
3. Can a magnifying glass be used to study Micro-organism ?
4. Name the various classes of micro-organisms.
5. Which is the smallest micro-organism ?
6. Name the carrier organism of Malaria.
7. Give an example of a fungal disease in plants.
8. Which vaccination is given to a baby just at birth ?

9. Name the instrument used for the study of viruses.
10. Name one vaccination which is taken orally.

Q.2. Match the following. (2½)

Column A	Column B
1. Compound Microscope.	Can be seen with naked eye.
2. Electron Microscope	Gives magnification of 1000
3. 1 micrometer.	Contain Chlorophyll.
4. Paramecium	Gives magnification of 100000
5. Algae	1000 nanometers .

Q.3. Fill in the blanks. (5)

1. Paramecium has hairlike structure called ... for locomotion.
2. Rod shaped bacterium is called as ...
3. ... is the method used to prevent the occurrence of disease even if germs enter a person's body.

- Q.3.
4. Disease producing micro-organisms are called as ...
 5. The word ' micro-organism ' comes from a Greek word. ...

Q.4. Write true or false (2½)

1. Micro-organisms can be seen with the naked eye.
2. Polio disease is caused by a virus.
3. Vaccination does not build up resistance in the body against an infectious disease.
4. Vaccination and purification of water are two of the various methods of preventing disease.
5. BCG vaccination is given on the very first day after birth.