

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me great pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude towards my guide Dr. (Ms.) M. S. Padmini, Reader and Head, Department of Education, Shivaji University, Kolhapur for her constant inspiration and whole hearted encouragement during the course of my work. I owe an enormous debit to her for her valuable guidance and support to me. Her painstaking efforts made this work a success.

I am especially grateful to Mrs. M.M. Uplane, my computer teacher and Lecturer, Department of Education, Shivaji University, Kolhapur for her co-operation and support during my work. Her contribution made this work successful.

I express my special thanks to my teachers in the Department Dr. C.M. Yeole, Reader, Dr. N. R. Sapre, Dr. G.S.Patil, Dr. P.S. Patankar. Lecturers, for their encouragement and support.

I am immensely grateful and would like to thank the Principal Dr. Shigare of S.M.T. Government college of Kolhapur for his kind co-operation during the collection of data. My special thanks to Psychology teacher Miss. Dadape and computer teacher Mr. Deshmukh for their co-operation and patient assistance in the collection of data in their college.

My special thanks to Dr. Suhas Wagh and Miss. Shweta Wagh, Computer Institute, Sangli, who assisted me for software preparation.

My special thanks to Mr. Ankush Vankore, Mr. Sanjay Patil who cordially gave me full co-operation while preparing the Computer Software. Without their tolerance to my frequent and unending queries and their co-operation the software could not have been so well prepared.

My inexpressible gratitude goes to the B. Ed. students of S.M.T. Government college, Kolhapur who actively participated in this research work. Without their cheerful co-operation the research would not have seen the light of the day.

I am thankful to all those who have directly or indirectly helped me to bring out the research work in the form of this dissertation.

My since thanks to Mr. Shardul Admuthe for the neat and accurate computer typing work of my dissertation.
