

LIST OF TABLES

Table No.	Titles	Page No.
4.1	Number and percentage of upper primary school teachers who says there is Gender Representation	66
4.2	Number and percentage of upper primary school teachers who says there meaning of Gender Representation	66
4.3	Number and percentage of upper primary school teachers who think to route Gender Representation in daily teaching	67
4.4	Number and percentage of teachers who point out objectives/ specifications of Gender Representation	68
4.5	Number and percentage of teachers who write main points related to Gender Representation	69
4.6	Number and percentage of teachers who plan reference books, educational aids to present Gender Representation.	70
4.7	Number and percentage of teachers who says there is sufficient references of women.	71
4.8	Number and percentage of teachers who decide learning experiences related to Gender Representation.	72
4.9	Number and percentage of teachers who says that textbook have lessons showing inferior position of women	74
4.10	Number and percentage of teachers who saysthat the lesson showing inferior position of women can be improved.	75
4.11	Number and percentage of teacher who find lesson having women references but not reflect in pictures property	77
4.12	Number of percentage of teachers who says that picture do not properly reflect women can be improved	79
4.13	Number and percentage of teachers who says less questions are asked about women.	80

Table No.	Titles	Page No.
4.14	Number and percentage of teachers who find discrimination as per capability of women in exercise.	82
4.15	Number and percentage of teachers who take help of handbook to guide Gender Representation.	84
4.16	Number and percentage of teachers who expect change in handbook from Gender Representation point of view.	85
4.17	Number and percentage of teachers who get guidance about teaching or Gender Representation.	86
4.18	Number and percentage of teachers who find more references of men than women in content	87
4.19	Number and percentage of teachers who find less references of women in content.	89
4.20	Number of percentage of teachers who find that there is content in the textbooks which shows male dominance.	90
4.21	Number and percentage of teachers who says lesson help to present women's modern image in society.	92
4.22	Number and percentage of teachers who says textbook present women's traditional image.	93
4.23	Number and percentage of teachers who says that there are lessons written by women authors.	95
4.24	Number and percentage of teachers who says that there are lessons equally written by women and men authors.	96
4.25	Number and percentage of teachers who says that the references of men and women are equal.	97
4.26	Number and percentage of teachers who expect that change in content which schools Gender Representation.	98
4.27	Number and percentage of teachers who find lessons where women references can easily be added.	99

Table No.	Titles	Page No.
4.28	Number and percentage of teachers who take help of educational films, T.V. Serials, Radio programmes to route Gender Representation.	100
4.29	Number and percentage of teachers who take help of autobiographies, stories of great men and women, saints, leaders to route Gender Representation.	102
4.30	Number and percentage of upper primary school teachers who present characteristics example of great men and women to present Gender Representation of the subject.	102
4.31	Number and percentage of teachers who like to present heightened image of women through the discussion.	103
4.32	Number of percentage of teachers who discuss present social incidents, events related to Gender Representation.	104
4.33	Number and percentage of teachers who inspire student to express their opinion about Gender Representation.	105
4.34	Number and percentage of teachers who purposely attract attention to Gender Representation.	106
4.35	Number and percentage of teacher who say that co-curricular activities help of transmit Gender Representation.	107
4.36	Number and percentage of teacher who arrange social service activities, national festivals to present content of Gender Representation.	108
4.37	Number and percentage of teachers who consider various camps, get together help to explain Gender Representation.	109
4.38	Number and percentage of teachers who think cultural programme, elimination of superstition help to develop Gender Representation.	110

Table No.	Titles	Page No.
4.39	Number and percentage of teachers who think N.S.S., N.C.C., Science exhibition also help to present Gender Representation.	111
4.40	Number and percentage of teachers who felt such programmes help to bring change in attitude and behaviour of student.	112