I am privileged to write my feeling here about those souls who extended their help directly or indirectly in completion of this work.

At the outset I owe dept of my gratitude to my teacher and guide Dr. B. A. Hegde, Head of the Botany Department, Shivaji University, Kolhapur whose relentless guidance inspired me to complete the experimental work.

My thanks are also due to the Shivaji University authorities for extending facilities to complete my work.

My special thanks are due to Shri Lugade, who helped me time to time during the completion of my work.

I am also thankful to Dr. T. M. Patil and my research colleague S. V. L. Prasad.
