

Acknowledgement

First and foremost I would like to express my gratitude to my guide Dr. K. Y. Rajpure, whose expertise, understanding, and patience, added considerably to my experience during M. Phil. studies. I appreciate all his contributions of time, ideas and hard work to make my research work productive and stimulating. I am grateful for his vast knowledge and skills especially his assistance in writing and checking reports in time. The joy and enthusiasm he has for the research was contagious and motivational for me, even during tough times in the M. Phil. pursuit.

I would like to thank Prof. (Dr.) C. D. Lokhande, Head, Department of Physics for the laboratory and characterization facilities provided to me. Also I am very much thankful the other faculty members of the department, Prof. (Dr.) C. H. Bhosale, former Head, Department of Physics and Dr. A.V. Moholkar, for their time from the busy schedule, to work as external supervisor for the seminars and giving the valuable suggestions. I extend my sincere thanks to the entire faculty as well as the administrative staff of the Physics Department for their co-operation throughout my research work.

I am also thankful to G. L. Agawane and Prof. (Dr.) J. H. Kim, Department of Materials Science and Engineering, Chonnam National University, South Korea, for the XPS characterizations. I would like extend my sincere thanks to Dr. D. Haranath, National Physical Laboratory, Delhi who provided photoluminescence spectra.

The member of our research group Dr. S. S. Shinde whose contribution for my M. Phil. is highly acknowledged. Other group members namely Mr. S. P. Yadav, Mrs. A. A. Kadam, Mr. V. V. Ganbavle, Mr. V. S. Sawant, Miss. S. I. Inamdar, Mr. S. V. Mohite and Mr. A. A. Bagade have contributed immensely throughout my research work and research writing. Also group members that I had the pleasure to work alongside are V. S. Mohite, M. A. Mahadik and S. S. Kumbhar. The group has been a source of friendships as well as good advice, collaboration and constant encouragement.

I express special thanks to the staff of CFC and PIFC, Department of Physics Shivaji University, Kolhapur for providing me the characterization and fabrication facilities. Last but not the least, I am indebted to my parents and beloved family especially my kids Srushti and Swaraj for leaving me during my research work.
