

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I offer my grateful thanks to Dr. R. N. Salve, Professor in the Department of Sociology, Shivaji University, Kolhapur, under whose encouragement and learned guidance the present work was carried out and completed. He not only inspired and initiated me in this study but developed in me a taste for research and a vision of the subject.

I express my thanks to Dr. S. A. Salunkhe, Head of the Department of Sociology, Shivaji University, Kolhapur who has been my teacher in my M. Phil. Course. He has been very sympathetic advisor in my difficulties. I will be failing in my duty, if I do not acknowledge my indebtedness to my teacher D. Shrikant for having helped in the course of M.Phil. and for having provided necessary facilities to complete this work.

I express my sincere gratitude also to Dr. R. B. Patil, Prof. B. N. Kendre, Dr. J. B. Ambekar who helped in every stage of my study. I also express my thanks to Librarians of Shivaji University and the local colleges in Solapur who supplied me books and valuable information.

I am also thankful to our typist Mr. Sikandar I. Shaikh who have neatly and timely typed and printed my dissertation. There are many others who extended directly and indirectly their helping hands to me. I am indebted to all of them.

Miss. Bhagyashri M. Patil
