

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my most sincere sense of gratitude to my guide Dr. R. N. Rattihalli, for constant encouragement and guidance, quite generously provided, which enabled me to carry out this work.

I would like to thank Dr. M. S. Prasad, Professor and Head of the Department of Statistics, Shivaji University, Kolhapur, for providing me the necessary research facilities and for useful discussions.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. S. R. Kulkarni and Mr. B. V. Dandra for their kind help and encouragement from time to time.

I remember very well, best company and help of C. S. I. R Fellow Raju Shirke. Also I remember company and help of past and present research fellows of the department. I would like to thank non-teaching staff of the department for their help.

My thanks are also due to the University Grants Commission, New Delhi, for granting me a Teacher Fellowship under the faculty improvement scheme, to complete the M. Phil. Degree.

I also thank the authorities of Shri. Shivaji Education Society and the Principal V. A. Jamadagni, Y. C. College of Science, Karad; for having granted me a study leave for a period of one year. I would like to thank my colleagues of the department.

I would like to thank Mrs. Ratna Prasad for neat and accurate typing of this dissertation.

Last but not least, I must be very grateful to my wife Mrs. Urmila, son Harshu, father, father-in-law and other family members and relatives for bearing untimely burden, encouragement and co-operations.
