

SYNOPSIS

This study is presented in six chapters.

- Chapter-I This chapter deals with introduction, methodology, scopes and limitations of the study.
- Chapter-II This chapter deals with the Agricultural Marketing in India.
- Chapter-III This chapter deals with establishment, procedure of Market Committees, powers of Market Committee, sources of income, expenditure of market committee, control of government on market committee. Bye laws of market committee, recruitment, service rules of employees of market committees. This chapter also deals with establishment and development of market committees in Satara District.
- Chapter-IV This chapter deals with the actual problems related to gradation of market committees, problems of employees of market committee relating to pay scale and allowances, recruitment, training, working conditions, social securities, employee-management relation, unionism etc.
- Chapter-V In this chapter findings of the study are noted.
- Chapter-VI This chapter deals with the remedies and suggestions.

.....