

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It had been my proud privilege to complete this Dissertation under the able guidance of Dr.R.D.BIRADAR. He provided meaningful insights into the subject and helped in clarifying my thinking on several issues. My gratitude and respect for him cannot be fully expressed in words.

Prof.A.D.Shinde, Director, and Dr.P.S.Rao, Principal, Chh.Shahu Central Institute of Business Education and Research, Kolhapur, have also extended a lot of co-operation, guidance and encouragement, which I cannot forget. My deep gratitude to them also.

My special thanks to Shri.Bandopant Patil, Chairman; Shri.Arun Chougule, Vice-Chairman; Shri.M.S.Pawar, Secretary; and Shri.S.D.Nikam, Incharge Assistant Secretary; as also the office staff of the Kolhapur Agricultural Produce Market Committee, for the co-operation and encouragement received from them during the tenure of my M.Phil. course.

This Dissertation, of course, would not have been possible without the co-operation of the respondents interviewed and who most indulgently tolerated my encroachment on their time and also freely responded to my questions and requests for suggestions.

I must record my thanks to Shri.T.J.Ghatge, Agricultural Officer of Soil Conservation Training Institute, Kolhapur, whose guidance and constructive criticism have also contributed much to my endeavour.

Lastly, I thank Shri.Avinash Kurne for his secretarial help and final typewriting of the Dissertation.
