

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the preparation of this M.Phil. dissertation I have received help and cooperation from different quarters. First of all, I express my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. V.B. Ghuge, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, Shivaji University, Kolhapur, under whose able guidance I could complete the work of writing this dissertation. But for his encouragement and critical guidance, I could never have accomplished this work. Prof. S.K. Kulkarni (D.R. K. College of Commerce, Kolhapur) and Dr. J.F. Patil (Department of Economics, Shivaji University, Kolhapur) gave me constant encouragement and helped me in the collection tabulation and interpretation of data. I am grateful to them. I am also thankful to Prin. M.A. Pawar, Principal, Padmbhushan Vasant Dada Patil Mahavidyalaya, Kavathe-Mahankal, the College where I work, for his liberal attitude in making me available various concessional facilities in the course of my work.

I am extremely grateful to Shri Belwankar, Tahsildar of Kavathe-Mahankal, Shri Jadhav and Shri Lawate, Engineers of the Irrigation Department and Shri Pawar, B.D.O., Kavathe-Mahankal, Shri Ravan, Cartographer, Shri M.G. Patil and Mr. and Mrs. Wadavane for their kind cooperation in the collection of secondary data from Government records. Thanks are due to Shri Kawade who typed this dissertation neatly and in time.
