

Acknowledgement

Let me take a moment to thank those who have given me the spiritual emotional and intellectual support required to complete this dissertation. First and foremost, I thank the members of my family: my parents, in-laws, my husband and my sweet daughter for their constant, unconditional love and encouragement. I owe a deep debt of gratitude to Prin. Dr. R. G. Kulkarni sir under whose inspiring guidance this dissertation has been written. I am very thankful to Osmania University Center for International Programmes (OUCIP), Hyderabad for provision of valuable reference books. I am also thankful to Mr. Khayyum sir, (OUCIP), Hyderabad for his timely help and necessary suggestions for my research work. I offer thanks to Pf. Attar sir, head of the department of English, Shivaji University, Kolhapur who always inspired me for this research work. I thank Barr. Balasaheb Khardekar Library, Shivaji University, Kolhapur. Last but not least, I must acknowledge my friends and colleagues for their love and support that always kept me enthusiastic to complete this dissertation.

Thank you all.

Miss. Bhakti D. Kulkarni