

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

At the outset, I wish to thank Dr. S.K. Desai, previously Head, Department of English, Shivaji University, Kolhapur, for introducing me to the inimitable Elizabeth Bowen. She presented me a challenge which was invigorating.

Dr. C.J. Jahagirdar, Professor and Head, Department of English, Shivaji University is an accomplished scholar and I consider myself fortunate to have been able to avail of his critical expertise and encouragement. He has been my guide and mentor, monitoring and piloting the ship of my academic work to a safe harbour. There are no adequate words to register my debt of gratitude to him.

My excursion into the field of academics would not have been possible without the invaluable instruction of my teachers Dr. S.V. Shastri, Dr. P.B. Patil, Dr. P.R. Kher, Dr. V.B. Badve, Dr. Maya Narkar, Dr. C.J. Jahagirdar and Dr. L.R. Moktali. To them I owe a debt of gratitude.

I specially thank Dr. L.R. Moktali for her help in correcting and compiling this work.

Mr. F.D. Gawade has worked diligently and sincerely, typing the thesis in record time to help me meet the deadline. My special thanks to him. I also wish to thank Mr. N.N. Charapale for his timely assistance.

I wish to express my gratitude to Mr. Vasant Joshi, Librarian, The British Library, Pune and the staff members, for all the efforts made by them in locating relevant information regarding my British Author. Thanks are also due to the Librarian and staff of the Shivaji University for their assistance in the course of my dissertation.

My nephew Samar Malik and my son's friend Anant Gairola sent me excerpts of information from libraries in the U.S.A. where they reside, and despatched it to me in time. I sincerely thank them both.

A special word of appreciation for the efforts of the officials and men of the Police Department, Kolhapur and the staff of the Maharashtra Police Academy, Nasik, who assisted me at every stage of my work.

I thank Dr. Bhawna Sonalkar and Dr. Vinay Thorat of Pune for administering timely medical aid in my spells of ill-health.

My daughter, son, mother and inlaws deserve special mention for their co-operation and adjustments to suit my time schedules. My domestic staff relieved me of daily routine chores. A heartfelt 'thank you' to my husband for his unflinching loyalty and approbation at every stage.

I dedicate this to the memory of my late sister-in-law, Aruna Rajwade, who was a lover and scholar of English Literature and would have been the first to delve into my work with interest.

Kolhapur

Alaka Rajwade
