

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I do sincerely admit that this work wouldn't have been this successful if I were not rendered true and genuine help and encouragement from all those eminent personalities of the elite class. This dissertation gracefully accommodates all the help that are willingly and generously extended in time and coordination. And here, with such a reverence and a deep sense of gratitude I stand this part of acknowledgement and confess that a mere thanks to them won't do anything.

My sincere and heart felt thanks primarily goes to my guide and advisor, Dr. Smt. Shobhana A. Jadhav, reader in History, Chh-Shivaji College, Satara. Her wisdom and command over the subject has really been of great help althrough this work. Her words of encouragement and wise suggestions are truly praiseworthy and has given this work a good appearance. My sincere thanks to her stand far beyond a simple formal gesture.

I had the opportunity to meet Lt. Col. Y.R. Puri (Retd), Founder Principal of the school, at his residence in Pune, Lt Col T. R. Reddy (Retd) ex-Principal of the School, Col R. S.
