

STRUCTURE OF THE THESIS

DISSERTATION

The thesis is organized to use the 'co-precipitation' technique to prepare cadmium stannate samples from aqueous medium. The prepared samples are characterized by various techniques for their structural, optical, electrical and dielectrical properties. The thesis is structured in five chapters, which are shown in the following flow chart:

disertation

