

LIST OF TABLES

- 1 A table showing religionwise distribution of the respondents.
- 2 A table showing castewise classification of the respondents.
- 3 A table showing the age grades of the respondents.
- 4 A table showing educational qualifications of the respondents.
- 5 A table showing the number of the earning members in the respondents' family.
- 6 A table showing hours of work got per day by the respondents for the household duties.
- 7 A table showing classification of the respondents according to the nature of household work they do.
- 8 A table showing classification of respondents for or against family Planning.
- 9 A table showing respondents' opinions regarding responsibility of training and guiding the children.
- 10 A table showing view of the women on who should discipline the children.
- 11 A table showing views of the respondents on who should give religious instructions to the children.

- 12 A table showing opinions of respondents on the ideal size of the family.
- 13 A table showing classification of the married employed women according to their number of children.
- 14 A table showing status of women in the family.
- 15 A table showing type of accommodation of the respondents.
- 16 A table showing leisure time per day.
- 17 A table showing reading material used by the respondents during their leisure time.
- 18 A table showing the hobbies pursued by the women during their <sup>e</sup>leisure time.
- 19 A table showing approximate amount spent on servant per month by the employed women.
- 20 A table showing distribution of reasons of women for taking job.
- 21 A table showing income grouping of the respondents.
- 22 A table showing various professions of the respondents.
- 23 A table showing hours of work in office.
- 24 A table showing reasons given by the employed women for taking Casual Leave.

- 25 A table showing type of co-workers in the respondents' office.
- 26 A table showing classification of respondents according to their services, before or after marriage.
- 27 A table showing classification of the replies of the respondents in regard to equality.
- 28 A table showing classification of employed women's responses as to what they have lost, what their mother had.
- 29 A table showing respondents' opinions about the women's work outside the house.
- 30 A table showing assessment of the difference in status made by employment.
- 31 A table showing classification of the respondents in connection with visit to office friends.
- 32 A table showing respondents' husband's feeling about visiting of the office friends.
- 33 A table showing classification of the replies of the respondents about special privileges for women.
- 34 A table showing the harmony achieved between home and office work.

- 35 A table showing respondents' opinions about whether service affects sex life.
- 36 A table showing classification of opinions regarding respondents' education coming in the way of their family duties.
- 37 A table showing approval to participation in various activities by educated working women.
- 38 A table showing the distribution of married and unmarried women according to the mode of addressing the parents.
- 39 A table showing respondents' mode of coming to office.
- 40 A table showing the distribution of respondents' distance from office to residence.