

CHAPTERISATION

Chapter-I ( A )

1 To 18

1. Deals with the technical definitions of the terms ' Labour', 'Labour Welfare', Industry, Trade Union and Trade Unionism.
The hypothesis which is consider for a study.
2. Title of the Research Project.
3. Aims and objectives of the study.
4. Scope of study and limitations of the study.
5. Research Methodology.
6. Problems of Indian Labour.

(B)

The growth of the trade unions, i.e. Historical perspective of the growth of the unions at a national scene.

Chapter-II

19 To 34

1. Comparative study of major Central Labour Organisations i.e. All India Trade Union Congress (AITUC), Indian National Trade Union Congress (INTUC), Hind Mazdoor Sabha (H.M.S.) and United Trade Union Congress (U.T.U.C.), and their aims and objectives.
2. Need of one strong union.
3. Strikes and lockouts in the essential services.
4. Labour relation.
5. Attitudes of different parties to workplace democracy.

Chapter-III

35 To 45

1. Aims and objectives of International Trade Unions.
2. Theories of Trade Unionism -
  - Revolutionary Theory,
  - Industrial Democracy Theory,
  - Business Theory,
  - Socio-psychological Theory,
  - Change Theory.
3. Role and Function of Trade Unions.
4. Welfare work of Workers' Organisations.

Chapter-IV

46 To 57

1. Better industrial relation better productivity Trade Unions and productivity.
2. Outside leadership - causes for the introduction of outside leadership in trade union.
3. Political influence in Trade Unions consequences in the working of the trade unions, if the political influence took place.
4. Powers of representative union to act on behalf of all workers.

Chapter-V

58 To 81

1. Industrial features of the Satara District i.e. industrial Development.
2. Trade Union Movement in Satara District deals with the views of late Annasheb Patil : ( leader of the Mathadi Kemgar Union Mumbai) about organisation of the workers.
3. List of the Trade Unions and their affiliation with Central Trade Union organisations.

Chapter VI

82 To 91

1. Labour movement in 20th century.
2. Can labour agitation be avoided.
3. Labour productivity
  - Meaning
  - Concept of productivity and its importance
  - Factors on which labour productivity depends.

Chapter VII

92 To 103

1. Tables
2. Questionnaire
3. Conclusion
4. Bibliography.