ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I take this opportunity to thank University Grants Commission, New Delhi for accepting proposal and supporting financially the same.

I am also very thankful towards Shivaji University, Kolhapur where this project work has been carried out. The help rendered by the university administration staff is really appreciable.

Thanks are due to Gram Panchayat if various villages located in Karveer taluka of Kolhapur district providing basic and necessary information during the project.

I am also thankful to my colleagues, office staff of the Department of Environmental Science, Shivaji University, and Kolhapur for their help during the project period.
